

TECHNOLOGY SESSIONS

Free Digital Audio Tools

Dave Tisdell

Choosing software on a budget? Learn about simple recorders, like Audacity, and Ardour, the open source equivalent of ProTools, and how you can use them in your classroom and concert stage.

Music Composition in the Cloud: Access and Success for All Students

Sandi MacLeod

New options are available for composition for students in grades 3 -12 that utilize an online notation software application. Think of it! No software to install; no upgrades; everyone on the same version at the same time. The best advantage is that students can access their own account anywhere and anytime they are on the internet. Hear about two programs that utilize the various offerings of Noteflight now available. View templates and activities for Noteflight Learning Edition. See the new program, Inside Music: Exploring Composition, featuring video instruction, lesson templates, feedback options, listening examples and score images, teacher resources and more.